

Neighbors Tell Why They Oppose New T. B. Hospital

Golden Hill Residents Fear Their Property Will Depreciate—Hospital Managers Cite Experience of Present Hospital to Show Fears Are Without Foundation.

There was a small attendance at the public hearing Thursday afternoon held at the supervisors' room in the court house by the committee on tuberculosis hospital and laboratory in the matter of protests against the purchase and location of the proposed tuberculosis hospital on Golden Hill.

The committee members present were Supervisor Young, who presided, and Messrs. Avery, Weiss and Sweeney. Clerk Henry R. DeWitt acted as secretary. County Attorney Robert G. Groves represented the county; Judge Joseph M. Fowler, the managers of the tuberculosis hospital; Frank W. Brooks appeared for Ewald Radatz of Glen street, an objector; Francis C. Merritt for objectors who had signed a protest, and Richard C. Brady, an objector who lives on the Boulevard, appeared in person.

After Clerk DeWitt had stated that the hearing was held in compliance with the wish of 38 residents in the vicinity of the proposed site on the ground that it would depreciate the value of their property and be a menace to health, he read a report from State Board of Health representatives who with the committee and other officials had made an inspection of the "Van Etten Purchase," so called, on Golden Hill, and also a letter in which State Health Superintendent Nichols said that he would approve the site. A letter from Walter J. Kidd, of 163 Boulevard, was read objecting and stating he would demand damages if the hospital was placed there.

Chairman Young said that one hour would be allowed the protestors and a similar time to those favoring the proposed Golden Hill site.

Property Owners Heard.

Richard C. Brady, who said he lived about 200 feet away from the proposed site on the Boulevard, stated he objected to the location on the ground of being a property owner and taxpayer.

Louis A. Bowen, who is a vegetable gardener, raises chickens, runs a gas station and has a cider mill, being owner of his home, objected, contending his property would depreciate fifty per cent in value if the hospital was located on the site proposed, that he had been told by customers they would not purchase chickens, eggs or garden truck if the hospital was built there. He denied having endeavored to sell his property to the county.

Morris Gruberg, who has a farm of 12 acres on the boulevard and raises chickens, has cows, sells milk and butter, stated in his opinion his property would depreciate greatly in value and it would be difficult to find a buyer if the hospital was built on Golden Hill.

No Danger, Says Dr. Stern.

Dr. A. A. Stern was called by Judge Fowler in behalf of the board of managers. He spoke in favor of the location. Objection was made when the present hospital was located on Clinton avenue. There was no danger of infection to anyone from a modernly conducted hospital. One tuberculosis patient walking about the street was far more dangerous than a large number of patients who are well cared for in a hospital. Nurses, doctors and orderlies at hospitals who come in close contact with tuberculosis patients do not contract the disease, established records show.

Although much prejudice exists in the public mind against tuberculosis hospitals there was no foundation for the fear. A new and large hospital will make it possible to receive incipient cases, a large proportion of which may be cured. An incipient case if not cared for in time becomes so far advanced there is no hope for a cure.

In order that a correction of a mistake in the title could be made, an extension of time was asked to make first payment, which was to have been made on contract to purchase site on May 15.

Values Farm at $20,000.

Walter J. Kidd, of the Boulevard, who spoke for his father, said their property was valued at $20,000, because of four acres, a two room house, a barn and pump house. From the sale of eggs, fruit, hay and other products his father cleared annually about $1,500. To County Attorney Groves he said his estimate of the value of the place was not too high as his father had been offered the amount named and had refused it. Attorney Groves stated that the place was assessed for $2,200.

Mrs. Edgar N. Paine, owner of property on Martin street and Lindbergh avenue, stated that while her property did not adjoin the proposed site, it was in the vicinity and as it was on the market for sale she was of the opinion the location of the hospital would injure the prospect of a sale.

Property Not Depreciated.

Judge Fowler, questioned by Supervisor Sweeney, stated that property had not depreciated in value in the section near the present tuberculosis hospital on Clinton Ave. First houses had been erected, gardens had been planted and people had there

Wealthy Recluse Is Found Dead

Police Believe Retired Mining Engineer Had Been Dead a Week—Was Father of Mrs. Charles W. Tiller of West Hurley.

New York, June 10 (AP)—The life story of a one-time brilliant mining engineer who is said to have amassed a fortune as an early associate of Andrew Carnegie, became known today in the death of Charles Francis King, 70 year old recluse, who lived on eighty cents a day in the shadow of Brooklyn Bridge.

Known as "the mystery man" in the neighborhood, a factory and tenement section of Brooklyn, the aged man was found dead in the dingy basement of two adjoining frame houses he owned. Police believe he died a week ago.

Neighbors had smelled gas and had seen newspapers delivered daily, piling up on King's doorstep. A policeman was called. He found the windows and doors stuffed with paper and a faint odor of gas perceptible.

On the wall of one room hung a diploma showing King had graduated from Lehigh University in 1880. Framed certificates indicated he had won both bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees at the same school. A well stocked library contained books by King on mining engineering. Papers showed he was a life member of the American Society of Metallurgical Engineers.

Relatives of the recluse were found. A brother, Dr. Thomas A. King, New York, critically ill with pneumonia, was said not to have seen his kin for ten years. Two daughters, Mrs. Charles W. Tiller of West Hurley, N. Y., and Miss Pearl King of Hershey, Pa., survive. His wife died many years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Tiller were notified that of Mr. King's death and left for Brooklyn today. Mr. King never visited West Hurley but he and his daughter corresponded.

Knife Wounds May Prove Fatal

Negro Brickyard Employee Found Along Road and Taken to Hospital—Says Another Negro Cut Him—Victim's Condition Serious.

Robert Wood, colored brickyard employee, was found along the road between the Goldrick yard and the former Dryer yard in the town of Ulster Thursday evening. A passing motorist noticed his helpless, bleeding condition and picked him up and brought him to the Benedictine Hospital here where Dr. Mark O'Meara attended him. It was found Wood was suffering from knife wounds through the chest and lungs and his condition was serious.

Dr. O'Meara notified headquarters of the affair and they in turn notified Sheriff Rice as the assault had taken place outside the city. District Attorney Traver was also notified and the Troopers were sent on the trail of the knife wielder. Wood's condition was such that District Attorney Traver sought to secure a statement from him.

According to the statement made by Wood when taken to the hospital, he had been cut in Bob Evans' place by a colored man named Sam Williams. The Troopers started out to investigate the circumstances of the crime and also to find Williams. Wood's conditions this afternoon was reported as very weak, and he is not expected to recover.

Holland Society Dinner

The Ulster county branch of the Holland Society will hold its annual dinner at the Governor Clinton on Saturday evening at 5:30. A reception at 7:30 will precede the dinner.

in comfort. Few complaints had been received about patients walking around the neighborhood. Only one patient had been complained of for making a nuisance of himself, two or three times. The present hospital was anything but a credit to the city or county. It will accommodate about 20 and patients did not like to go there because of its condition. It was almost impossible to get nurses to work there. It was essential that the hospital site be in the city or immediately adjacent so that it would be attractive to patients and convenient for relatives and friends and for the physicians. Speed was necessary as a delay now might cause the entire back of the new hospital project for a year or more.

No one else wishing to be heard. Chairman Young at 5:50 o'clock closed the hearing. The report of the committee will be made to the board of supervisors Tuesday.

Lindbergh Nears Virginia Capes, Citizens Anxious

Memphis Scheduled at Hampton Roads at 4 o'clock—Mrs. Lindbergh Coming in White House Automobile From Baltimore—Crowds Converge on Washington.

Washington, June 10 (AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh, riding in triumph on the United States cruiser Memphis, neared the Virginia Capes today, as the advance guard of the army of enthusiastic citizens anxious to welcome him to his own shores converged on Washington.

The young aviator who flew alone from New York to Paris, made his first contact with America early today when the destroyer Humphreys met the Memphis at sea to take off photographic films and news stories of his victorious homeward journey.

Among those nearing the scene which will climax Lindbergh's three weeks' occupancy of the throne of the world's interest was his mother, Mrs. Evangeline Lodge Lindbergh, the Detroit school teacher, who is to share, as a guest at the White House, the nation's adulation of her famous son.

Mrs. Lindbergh, en route from Detroit to Washington, alighted from her train today at Baltimore, and this afternoon she will be brought to Washington in a White House automobile, accompanied by an official aide of President Coolidge. The stop at Baltimore was made to avoid the crowds here, whose enthusiasm has been growing as Lindbergh's arrival approached.

Schedule of the Memphis

As now scheduled, the Memphis will cruise into Hampton Roads this afternoon at 4 o'clock and tomorrow morning at 11 she will slide into the navy yard dock here. There the flier will be greeted by official committees appointed to receive him on behalf of the American people, but more important to him, by his mother.

The official greeting by President Coolidge at the base of the monument to George Washington, with the presentation of the high honors voted for the air pioneer, will follow.

Visitors to Washington today came by air, by motor and by rail. Principal railroads in nearby eastern states put on special trains and cut rates were ordered for travelers from all directions. Faced with a reception without precedent in welcoming demonstrations, elaborate precautions were taken by military and police authorities to handle the crowds.

Array of Aircraft

Tomorrow as the cruiser slowly steams up Chesapeake Bay and Potomac river an array of aircraft, approximately 90 army, navy, commerce and post office department airplanes, together with more than a score of civilian planes, will escort the aviator to the Washington navy yard dock where he will disembark. The national capital alone is to give America's official welcome to Colonel Lindbergh, it has been decided.

Outside of the roar of airplanes, motors and the familiar hand signals of pilots, the transatlantic flier will receive no welcoming greeting until President Coolidge and a brilliant array of government officials, diplomats and fellow famous aviators exchange their tributes on his arrival at Washington.

No Reception at Virginia

In deference to the wishes of President Coolidge to have the first welcome in Washington, Virginia will not even extend a reception to the flier as Lindbergh passes along the coast. Although Governor Byrd and hundreds of the state's residents will embark in boats to cruise alongside the Memphis to catch a glimpse of him, Governor Byrd previously had planned to board the Memphis at the Capes.

The dropping of a package of messages and his Missouri national guard uniform, with the new spread eagles of a colonelcy which he will don for his reception tomorrow, from the dirigible Los Angeles on the Memphis's decks is to be practically his only contact with his home today.

But upon landing at the navy yard at noon tomorrow, if the Memphis adheres to the program, the youthful pilot will receive plaudits and tributes of a proud nation, such as never before have been accorded to a private citizen.

Met at the dock by three cabinet members, Secretary of War Baker, Secretary Wilbur of the Navy and Postmaster General New, Colonel Lindbergh will be the center of hundreds of thousands in a parade of soldiers, sailors and marines past the Capitol and along Pennsylvania avenue to the Washington monument.

Many Decorations

There President Coolidge will extend the welcome of the United States to the young hero and pin on his breast the government's highest award for aviation achievement, the first Distinguished Flying Cross ever to be struck off.

The flying cross but one of many decorations which will be conferred upon the aviator. The Smithsonian Institution has awarded him the coveted Langley Medal, given only to the "founders of a nation," the National Geographic Society has conferred the Hubbard medal, the decoration reserved for famous explorers, and the United States Flag Association will present its Cross of Honor for glorification of the American flag.

Germany Heaps Honors on Fliers

American Embassy, Where Chamberlin and Levine Are Stopping, Filled With Gifts—Intend to Visit Munich and Vienna.

Berlin, June 10 (AP)—Americans from all parts of Germany were flocking to Berlin today for a dinner dance to be given by the American Club to night in honor of the trans-Atlantic fliers, Clarence Chamberlin and Charles Levine.

Another feature of a day that promised to see the climax of their visit to Berlin, from the social standpoint was a great banquet by the municipality of Berlin, at which the burgomaster was to present them with special plaques.

The aviators intend to visit Munich and Vienna. They will fly to Prague, Capital of Czechoslovakia, next Thursday visiting the International Aerial Club of Prague.

Chamberlin is anxious to make a call at Rome as part of his European tour.

"I feel I owe it to Bellanca, if it can possibly be arranged, to see the eternal city," he said. Giuseppe Bellanca, an Italian by birth but now an American citizen, designed and built his plane.

Honors and gifts of a kind and profusion rarely bestowed on individuals in Germany continue to be heaped on Chamberlin and Levine because they landed on German soil in their trans-Atlantic flight.

Not only have they heard their praises sounded by President Von Hindenburg, Foreign Secretary Stresemann and other officials, but they learned that one of Berlin's streets is to be named after their plane—"Columbiastrasse." Chamberlin received word also that the management of the principal brewery of Pilsen has offered to name one of its brands of beer after him subject to his approval, and to present him with a tankard of honor.

Although they have been in Berlin only a little more than three days, the American Embassy, where the fliers are stopping, is filled with gifts—cigars and cigarettes, golden cigarette cases, and silver cups—cases of champagne, wearing apparel and floral tributes. As neither smokes and Chamberlin only drinks beer occasionally, some of the gifts are destined to find their way to hospitals and other institutions.

The fliers were welcomed at a tea at the German Aerial Club yesterday afternoon, where they made the acquaintance of most of the living German war-time aces, and last night they were guests of a gala dinner given in their honor by the minister of communications, Herr Koch.

The Lindbergh Air Mail Stamp

Washington, June 10 (AP)—The Lindbergh air mail stamp, the first copy of which is being mounted in a special album for presentation to Colonel Lindbergh tomorrow by Postmaster General New, will be placed on sale June 18 at four post offices and the government's philatelic agency here.

The post offices will be at St. Louis, the home port of "The Spirit of St. Louis," and a terminus of Lindbergh's old air mail route; Detroit, his birthplace; Little Falls, Minn., his boyhood home, and Washington, where he spent a number of years while his father was in Congress. The stamps will be issued to other post offices as fast as the bureau of engraving and printing can turn them out.

New York Excited Over Lindbergh's Return on Monday

Take Special Precautions Against Accident—Stock Exchange Will Close—Plans For Reception Subject to Young Flier's Approval.

New York, June 10 (AP)—The sleepy few hundred spectators who bade good bye to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh when he hopped off to Paris early May 20, will be replaced by enthusiastic millions when the young flier is welcomed back here Monday.

So excited is the sophisticated metropolis over the return of the modest hero that city officials are taking special precautions against accident when the populace turns out to greet the flier on his arrival from Washington.

Fearing that the thousands of available policemen and national guardsmen will be unable to cope with the crush which is expected to attend the airman's arrival Grover A. Whalen, chairman of the mayor's welcoming committee, has asked Colonel Lindbergh to land in New York bay in an Amphibian plane instead of at Miller Field, Staten Island, in "The Spirit of St. Louis."

Colonel Lindbergh, in a radio message from the Memphis, on which he will reach Washington, said it would be inadvisable to ship his plane here by freight. He suggested the crowd would be avoided by keeping the time and place of his arrival from the newspapers. The police problem was the chief difficulty in the way of landing at Miller Field, Mr. Whalen asserted.

Business at a Standstill

Business in New York will be virtually at a standstill during the reception. For one of the few times in its history, the New York Stock Exchange will close for a full day to honor an individual. The Curb market also will close for the day, while the Cotton Exchange will cease operations at noon.

Traffic courts will be closed in the Bronx, Manhattan and Brooklyn to release additional patrolmen for duty.

Seven thousand policemen aided by national guardsmen will guard the line of march of the parade for the aviator. Six hundred men and thirty officers of the regular army will be on duty at Miller Field.

Subject to Approval

Plans for the reception are subject to Colonel Lindbergh's approval. Mayor Walker and Mr. Whalen have declared. Positive announcement as to details cannot be made, they said, pending word from the flier.

Mr. Whalen said commercial aviators would be asked to abandon plans for a proposed aerial parade to follow Lindbergh to Central Park because of the possibility of accident. Landing of civilian planes at the national guard reservation at Miller Field from 8 a. m. until 1 p. m., has been prohibited.

Broadway Theatre Formally Opened

Kingston's Latest Amusement House Opened Thursday Evening With Large Attendance of First-Nighters and a Feature Program—Brief Addresses by Mayor Dempsey and Manager Lazarus.

The Broadway Theatre was formally opened Thursday evening by Mayor E. J. Dempsey, who was introduced by Harry Lazarus, the managing director of Kingston's latest theatre. The mayor spoke briefly, congratulating the Kingston Theatre Corporation and Mr. Lazarus on the finely equipped theatre which was a credit to the city. Mr. Lazarus also spoke briefly, stating that the evening was the realization of a dream come true, and that Kingston now had a theatre of which it could be proud. He said it was now up to him to produce good shows and this he would do.

Long before the doors swung open there was a long line of patrons waiting to be admitted to the theatre. Those who had viewed the theatre on Wednesday and had expressed doubt as to it being in readiness for the opening night were surprised as they entered the theatre to find everything ready, with the carpets laid, the scenery hung, the painting and decorating completed and the furnishings installed.

The opening program was a credit to the new theatre and the feature film, "Cradle Snatchers," based on the stage hit, kept the audience in a roar of laughter. It was followed by five acts of first class vaudeville. The theatre orchestra conducted by Jacob Mollot rendered an exceptionally fine program during the evening.

The first night audience was pleased not only with the theatre but with the first show given from the large stage.

In carrying out the Spanish note in the decorations the ushers, who are girls, were gowned in Spanish costumes.

Commencing today there will be matinees every afternoon with two performances at night.

Claiming that Mrs. Lucy Bennett, 25 years old, of No. 79 Chambers street had struck him over the head with a fence picket, inflicting a wound over his left eye that required four stitches to close, William Woerner of 33 St. Mary's street shortly after midnight this morning had her arrested, charging her with assault in the third degree.

At police headquarters in the Municipal Building she furnished cash bail in the sum of $40 for her appearance in police court later in the morning at which time she pleaded not guilty, stating she desired to retain the services of a lawyer, and the hearing was adjourned to next Wednesday morning.

Mr. Woerner was also in court wearing a bandage over his left eye.

Mrs. Bennett was in court with her husband who said he desired to engage a lawyer to defend his wife.

The hearing had been adjourned to this morning in police court at which time Elmendorf withdrew his former plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail.

To Invite Valley Firemen to Meet In City in 1928

Kingston's Volunteer Fire Department to Ask Common Council to Appropriate $5,000 to Entertain Convention, and to Raise Balance Needed by Financial Drive Throughout the City.

At the annual convention of the Hudson Valley Firemen's Association to be held in Poughkeepsie this month an invitation will be extended to the association to hold its 1928 convention in Kingston. This action was taken Thursday evening at a meeting of the representatives of the eleven volunteer fire companies of the city held at the Central Fire Station which was attended by Mayor E. J. Dempsey, a committee from the common council, members of the board of fire commissioners and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, and the Uptown and Downtown Business Men's Association.

The meeting had been called by Vice President William B. Martin of the Hudson Valley Firemen's Association and Director William H. Kolts. Mr. Martin presided and outlined the purpose of the gathering. He said the firemen were willing to invite the convention here next year if assured that they would receive financial backing from the city and the business interests of Kingston. It was estimated that $5,000 was needed to make the convention here a success.

E. Frank Flanagan, president of the Chamber of Commerce and the Uptown Business Men's Association, assured the firemen that they would have the hearty support of those organizations.

Samuel Stern, president of the Downtown Business Men's Association, also assured the firemen of the support of that association.

Mr. Flanagan gave as his opinion that the common council should appropriate $5,000 to be placed in the 1928 tax budget and that the remaining $3,000 needed could be raised by popular subscription among the business interests of the city. Mr. Stern said he saw no reason why there should be any trouble in raising the amount needed.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy offered as a suggestion that each fire company stage a financial drive in the wards they were in, making a house to house canvass. This suggestion was adopted.

After discussing the question from 8 until 11 o'clock a vote was taken among the fire companies represented to ascertain if they favored holding the convention here. The vote resulted in seven companies voting in favor and four companies voting "No."

Those voting in favor were Union, Rapid, Excelsior, Welner, Cornell, Cordis Hose Companies and the Exemptis.

Those voting "no" were Twelfth, Central, Rescue and Wiltack Hose Companies.

It was also voted to appoint a committee headed by Mayor Dempsey and other city officials to go to Poughkeepsie and extend the invitation to meet here in June, 1928. The fire companies also voted to ask the common council to make an appropriation of the amount stated. It is expected the mayor will hold a special meeting shortly to receive and act on the report of the special committee appointed to attend Thursday's meeting.

WRITING PAPER ONCE CURRENCY

Macerated Money Turns Out
High Grade Pulp and Country Profits.

Washington.—As a further step toward economy in maintaining the large amount of paper money in circulation in the United States, the bureau of standards, in co-operation with the bureau of engraving and printing and the bureau of efficiency, has worked out a method of converting macerated currency into first-class writing paper.

The work was the result of experimentation which brought about the making of a harder and tougher currency paper so that dollar bills would last longer—not with the individual—but in circulation.

The experiments brought a vastly improved currency paper and now dollar bills have an average life of more than two years. This done, the process was reversed. Each day four tons of cuttings, waste and currency retired from circulation is macerated under the eyes of a board, the duties of which are to watch and see in the public interest that no bill condemned escapes the macerator and gets back into circulation.

De-inking the Pulp.
The product of maceration was a relatively worthless pulp. It was sold to souvenir makers in relatively small quantities, to be made into souvenirs of Washington. It was sold as a mass containing 70 per cent water and all the ink.

No attempt is made to clean the pulp, the process being carried only far enough to comply with the requirements for protection against unlawful use of the waste paper; that is, that it be entirely deinked so that no printed characters can be distinguished and that all distinctive features of the paper itself be removed.

In this form the pulp is suitable for coarse paper products only, such as certain grades of boards, owing to its large content of impurities in the form of lumps. For this reason the price received is so low that according to the survey by the board of efficiency, the maceration is costing annually from $15,000 to $18,000.

As the original paper is composed of the highest grade linen and cotton rag fibers, a clean pulp produced from the waste paper should have a ready market for fine writing and printing papers at a considerably increased price. It is estimated that by so improving the product, the present loss can be turned to a profit amounting possibly to $50,000.

How It Is Cleaned.
The material presents unusual resistance to the ordinary de-inking treatments, owing to hardness and toughness of the paper, the large amount of ink present and the resistant quality of the ink. It was found possible, however, to completely de-ink and otherwise quite thoroughly clean it with semi-commercial machinery consisting of a duster, a rotary digester and a beater equipped with a drum washer.

The paper produced from the pulp compared favorably with good grades of fine writing and printing papers. As is to be expected, considering the wear to which paper money is subjected and the weakening effect of de-inking and de-bering processes, a large proportion of the original strength of the fibers is lost. The reclaimed fiber paper, however, is sufficiently strong for the purpose mentioned, being somewhat stronger than that made from new sulphite fiber and as strong as some grades of rag fiber papers made from lower grades of rags.

The results obtained are considered so promising that it is planned to purchase the additional commercial equipment for use in the recovery plant of the bureau of engraving and printing required to produce a clean pulp and to more thoroughly de-water it so as to lower the transportation cost of the product.

Shamokin, Pa.—Irvin Paul, forty-one years old, recently placed a stick of dynamite under his head and another under his feet, while he lay on the ground, touched a match to the fuse, and, although one stick exploded, lived to tell the tale. The stick of dynamite under Paul's head exploded while the one under his feet failed to fire.

"I've got a pretty good head, if a stick of dynamite won't blow it off," Paul said to attaches at the hospital where he was taken. He suffered severe lacerations of the head and face, a broken left arm and cuts and bruises about the body. He also was injured internally.

Hospital attaches believe Paul will recover, although it is feared he will lose the sight of his left eye.

ZENA.

Zena, June 9.—The regular monthly meeting of the Zena Country Club was held at the club house last Friday evening. Following the regular business, the president introduced Cecil Chichester, technical director for the Pageant, taking place in Kingston June 30, who gave a very interesting talk, telling all about the historical meaning of the pageant. Many members of the club signed up to take active part.

Mrs. Joseph Donnelly (Don Donnelly) was elected a member of the Zena Country Club at their meeting. On Saturday evening, June 11, there will be a dance at the Zena

Country Club for members and their guests. Music by Pete Boice and the Z. C. C. own orchestra.

Members of the Zena Country Club Minstrel cast are all fully recovered after a long sick spell and are happy to announce that the minstrel entertainment will be given on Saturday evening, June 18, at 8:30 p. m. daylight saving time. Alfred J. Farrell will assist with an exhibition of sleight of hand, in which he is both clever and popular. Following the entertainment there will be dancing. The public is cordially invited. All tickets sold for the date in May will be accepted at the door on June 18.

Monday, June 6, was the last day of school for the children of Zena District No. 7, before summer vacation. As a fitting close Miss Dorothy Allen, their teacher, had arranged a picnic, with ride to the aerating plant of the Ashokan reservoir with luncheon on the hill overlooking the plant. Following walks and games the rollicking party continued the ride around the reservoir and then home. Miss Carrie Carnright and Mrs. Dan Lynch drove the two trucks used and with Mrs. Howard Harcourt assisted Miss Allen in chaperoning the children.

It is with sorrow that the community of Zena sees Miss Allen going to Florida to teach next fall, as she has been a very faithful and popular teacher for three years, and loved by all, but she takes with her the new wishes for her new work.

Eleanor Mildred, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. and Mrs. Leslie Elwyn, was baptized by the Rev. Harvey Todd last Sunday afternoon in the Reformed Church in Zena. Mrs. Dan Lynch and William Klemm, Jr., active as witnesses. The same evening Mr. and Mrs. William Klemm served a beautiful Christening supper in honor of the event.

to the many relatives and friends invited.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JUNE 10, 1927.

WHY THE PAGEANT?

The Pageant given by the Ulster County Farm and Home Bureau Association and the Kingston Chamber of Commerce makes no claim to being historically accurate in all of its details. In the main it is a fair representation of life and events in Kingston at the various times it portrays. It has been enlivened by interludes that in some cases have little if anything to do with history.

The Farm and Home Bureau Association, with the aid of their friends from city and county, have endeavored to entertain as well as instruct. The Chamber of Commerce, as in past events in which it has cooperated with the Farm and Home Bureau, has assisted in the financing and in the preparations necessary for the entertainment of its guests, taking very little part in the actual management of affairs. The visitors from outside Kingston are here as the guests of the city, represented by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Pageant is the outgrowth of and substitute, this year, for the annual picnic of the Farm and Home Bureau, which has several times been held in Kingston with the Chamber of Commerce representing the city as host to the visitors.

The Pageant is purely a Farm and Home Bureau affair, suggested by one of the members, endorsed by the organization months ago, organized and carried on by the members of the organization, with the aid of their friends in city and county, financed by receipts from the sale of tickets and aiming for receipts sufficient to cover expenses and pay the Home Bureau a sum equal to that it would have made had the usual picnic been held. It is not a money-making enterprise, but should there be a profit, it will go to form the nucleus for the building in Kingston of a headquarters for Ulster county farmers visiting the city.

The Pageant is in no way controlled by any state or other public body or officials and is not receiving one cent of public money. It is by, of and for the farmers of Ulster county and their families and to them belongs all of the credit for planning it and carrying out the plans. They are the guests of the city on the day of the Pageant, just as they were on the day of the last Farm and Home Bureau picnic, and must be treated accordingly. One does not try to grab nickels and dimes from his guests.

THE CITY HALL PROBLEM.

The aldermen and other city officials are worthy of unlimited commendation for having refrained thus far from any hasty action regarding the matter of rebuilding the city hall. Not until the fullest information, accurate and beyond question, is at hand should there be any fixed opinions formed or definite plans made for the future, and even then there should be the most careful and intelligent consideration given before deciding whether to attempt to rebuild, or to erect an entirely new building.

The Freeman has not often agreed with our former mayor, Palmer Canfield, in his methods and policies, but in his letter to Mayor Dempsey Mr. Canfield brings up matters that are of great importance and makes statements that are indisputable. The city hall was not a modern public business building. All considerations of architectural beauty—or the lack of it—aside, the city hall should be a model business building. It should be not only adapted to efficient use, but should be sanitary and comfortable. Thus the old city hall was not, and there are excellent reasons for doubting that it could ever be made so.

The city hall had no cellar. The heating plant was originally located in the basement, where it was not efficient. Some years ago, as a step in the costly patchwork that has been going on from time to time, a hole in the rocks under the building was blasted out in order to afford inadequate space for the heating plant. The old "cellar kitchen" basement, damp, poorly lighted and unsanitary, was left for police headquarters and other city offices. Whatever is done, this condition should be abolished.

While the city's work has been hampered by poor and inadequate quarters, there has been much waste space in the building, located in the third story, where it was too inaccessible to be of use. These things must be considered, as well as the probability of future needs, before any decision is reached.

CREDIT FOR FLOOD VICTIMS.

The American people have been generously giving millions for the relief of the Mississippi flood sufferers. This is the first, necessary human relief needed. It is only a drop in the bucket compared with the total requirements. Homes, farm buildings, equipment of many kinds, even the soil itself in some cases, are gone. The inhabitants must begin all over again, like the residents of the war zone in France. Then begins the business problem. From a purely business standpoint the effects of the flood may be a sharp curtailment of the purchasing power of the flooded section, a lowering of its agricultural production, an immediate and pressing need for credit, and a constructive program of preservation which may involve future financing.

It is evident that business men should grant as liberal credit as possible in the flooded section. Also that some such plan as that recommended by Secretary Hoover—agricultural finance corporations—should be adopted to provide proper loans. Also that means should be provided whereby the public which has given dollars for temporary relief could lead thousands for sound investment in reconstruction and development. Surely the nation which has lent so many billions to Europe can lend any desired amount to its own people in their bitter need.

BEAUTIFUL HOUSES.

A good many people, even in this age of beautiful homes, go to a lot of trouble and expense to make their homes ugly. One of the best ways to economize, says Ernest Flagg, well-known American architect, is to "economize on ugliness." This can easily be done, he explains, because good taste and economy usually go together. Good taste means simplicity, and simplicity means economy.

There have been fashionable types of architecture, in certain regrettable epochs, that specialized on lavish expenditure and excessive ornateness. Nowadays a home-builder can spend all the money he likes, and get an architect to plan him a palace, if that is what he wants; but it is easier to find an architect who will plan him a house built around and suited to the activities of the family that will occupy that house, with everything simple and tasteful, and therefore appropriate and beautiful.

"Architecture" used to be something stuck on after a house was planned structurally. Now architecture is the spirit of the house itself, expressed fittingly in its structure and finish, without any absurd and costly gimcracks.

PAIN AT POINT OF SHOULDER.

You have a shoulder that pains you at times. As you attempt to put on your coat or dress, you feel this pain in the shoulder. Putting on a heavy outer garment gives real pain.

Now this has been called rheumatism, arthritis, neuralgia, neuritis, and other names, but the real cause of pain at or just below the point of the shoulder is often due to an inflammatory condition, occurring in a little bag of water, a bursa, that acts as a sort of cushion between the big shoulder muscle of upper arm, and the shoulder joint.

Another one of these bags or cushions is on the side of the big joint. Here it is called a bursa. There is another one just below the knee cap in front, and when it gets swollen it is called housemaid's knee.

You can tell that it is the bag of water at shoulder that is giving the trouble by simply raising the arm sideways from the body. It is so painful that you raise your whole shoulder with it to lessen the pain. However at a certain point in raising it sideways the pain disappears as the tender point slips under the shoulder cap. The arm can be turned inwards and even placed behind the back without causing pain.

Dr. Codman, Goldthwait, and other Boston physicians, have written about this condition for a number of years, but still the old idea that it is rheumatism, still holds in the minds of the patients, and unfortunately with some physicians also.

Now this material in this sack gets thick and the lining of the sack itself becomes thickened. There is often a deposit of a chalky substance like lime.

In speaking of this before, I mentioned the fact that surgical measures were sometimes necessary to remove this chalky deposit.

However the usual treatment is about as follows.

If the injury is recent just give it two or three days complete rest. If of longer duration apply hot water for about fifteen minutes, and then raise and lower your arm slowly for two or three minutes. After this use hot water again which will ease the pain and remove some of the products which were manufactured when you exercised your arm. This should be done a half dozen times a day.

Dr. A. J. Grant of London, reports the recovery of seven cases by means of diathermy and massage. Diathermy is that form of electricity which gets the heat right into the tissues of the body.

So if you have a pain under your shoulder cap, think of the possibility of the inflammation of this bag of water, or bursitis, as it is called.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

DAWN FAIRIES

You see, the chief object of a fairy is never to be seen by a human being.

The Dawn Fairies.

There are many lovely little fairies living around us all the time, but now I want to tell you something of the dawn fairies.

We do not see them, but they are about.

The only time they play without any worries or fears of being seen is in the early morning before day breaks, and so they call themselves the Dawn Fairies.

Their dresses are made of dull gray, which looks like the early morning, and then it is that they frisk about and have the most wonderful time.

As soon as the sun rises their dresses change color and are very dazzling—just like the sun.

As you know the sun is so bright that you cannot possibly look at it.

You see when the sun rises and the day begins all the human beings commence to get up and go about, and as the fairies do not wish to be seen the Queen of the Fairies has given them all these very, very bright frocks so none of us can see them.

Once a little girl thought she would see the Dawn Fairies. She got up very early and thought she would see them playing in their own dawn dresses before they put on the very, very bright dresses the Fairy Queen had given them.

But that idea has already been thought of by the Fairy Queen, for should any little girl or boy get up before daybreak in order to see the dawn fairies the Fairy Queen, who is always watching over them, waves her magic wand and the fairies are instantly turned into mist.

The little girl who had heard of the dawn fairies who was so eager to see them that she got up long before daybreak

In the Trunk of a Tree.

—in fact, before many of the fairies themselves were up, for they sleep when it is really dark—and hid in the trunk of a tree to wait.

After what seemed a long time to her the lovely gray dawn fairies came out from their sleeping places and she heard them laugh their low, bell-like laughs.

"Suddenly one of them realized that some one was around and caught sight of the little girl."

"Oh dear," shrieked the fairy, "there's a huge person near us," at which all the fairies scattered.

So from that day the Fairy Queen has been careful that no one else should see the dawn fairies.

As Big as a Bean

Tommy is fond of squeezing tooth-paste out of his shiny new tube.

"Don't take too much this time, dear," his mother said to him one morning when he was cleaning his teeth.

"How much may I have?" asked Tommy.

"Well, I should think a little bit, perhaps as big as a bean."

Tommy gave a great pinch and out shot the paste.

"Oh, oh!" exclaimed his mother, "not all that, Tommy. Didn't I say as big as a bean?"

"Yes," replied Tommy, "this is a stringbean."

Costly, but Useless

The doctor found his patient in very low spirits.

"Cheer up," he said; "I'll soon pull you through."

"It isn't that," moaned the patient. "I've just been reckoning how much I've spent on apples to keep you away!"

Little Talks for Juniors

What is an even better gronch chaser than a smile? Two smiles.

When you're feeling kind of blue, and the world looks upside down to you, try a smile. For the fellow really worth while is the fellow who can smile when things don't look their best. If you doubt, put it to the test.

Simple

"And remember, my daughter," said the wise woman, "a girl's life is simple if you understand it right."

"I don't get you, ma," said the debutante.

"Well, your only problem is how to get, manage and divorce a man!"

Discouraged

"Why don't you send in your jokes to the joke editor?"

"Aw, what's the use? He'd only laugh at 'em."—Boys' Life.

GAS BUGGIES—What Others Think.

HEATED DISCUSSIONS AMONG THE NEIGHBORS, CONCERNING THE OWNERSHIP OF THE COMPRESSED AIR CAR IDEA, HAS CAUSED MORE TROUBLE THAN THE PRINCIPALS THEMSELVES ARE HAVING IN ESTABLISHING THEIR CLAIMS TO THE INVENTION.

AFTER TALKING WITH BIG-MOUTHED HEN TODAY, I'M MORE CONVINCED THAN EVER THAT BOSCO INVENTED THE COMPRESSED AIR CAR. ALL THE TIME HEN WAS TALKING, HE KEPT BANGING HIS FIST ON THE DESK AND RAISING HIS VOICE HIGHER AND HIGHER. HE SOUNDED EXACTLY LIKE THAT AUCTIONEER WHO SOLD US THOSE ANTIQUE CHAIRS WE FOUND THE "MADE IN MICHIGAN" SIGN ON WHEN WE GOT HOME.

WELL...DON'T YOU SAY ANYTHING TO EITHER OF THEM, HEARTBURN, TILL IT'S ALL SETTLED. WE WANT TO BE FRIENDLY WITH THE WINNER SO WE CAN GET THE AGENCY FOR THE COMPRESSED AIR CAR. WHY TOSS AWAY A FORTUNE FOR THE SAKE OF SAYING SOMETHING SNAPPY?

POOH! BOSCO DOESN'T DESERVE ANY SYMPATHY. BEESIE IS THE ONE TO FEEL SORRY FOR. HE COULDN'T KEEP HIS TRAP SHUT TILL THEY HAD THINGS SEWED UP WITH A PATENT. THAT'S THE THANKS SHE GETS FOR SLAVING AWAY TO MAKE HIM A SUCCESS. OH, IT'S AN OLD PROBLEM AMONG US WOMEN. I KNOW HOW SHE FEELS.

I'M THROUGH ARGUING WITH YOU. YOU WON'T LISTEN TO LOGIC. ALL YOU WANT TO DO IS START SOMETHING BUT I WILL SAY THIS...IF THE WOMEN WOULD WASTE SO MUCH TIME TRYING TO GRAB CREDIT FOR WHAT US MEN DO, THEY MIGHT GET SOMEPLACE.

IF YOU HAD ONLY LISTENED TO ME, LABRADOR, WE WOULDN'T HAVE SLAPPED A BIG MORTGAGE ON THE HOUSE TO BUY THIS BUS, AND HAVE IT DEPRECIATE AWAY IN UNDER OUR FEET BECAUSE OF THAT CAR HEN INVENTED.

WELL, PET, THE MILK IS SPLIT. LET'S STOP CRYING AND TAKE A LITTLE LONGER RIDE EACH DAY. THERE'S NO USE OF LIMITING OURSELVES TO TEN MILES WHEN THE BUS IS GOING TO THE DOGS ANYWAY.

Natural History School in Park

Albany, N. Y., June 10 (AP).—Preparations virtually have been completed for the opening of the Allegany School of Natural History, to be conducted in Allegany State Park this summer by the Buffalo Society of Natural Sciences and the New York State Museum.

Designed for teachers, scout and camp executives and persons interested in museum work and park management, the school will endeavor to supplement laboratory instruction by offering a series of field courses in the natural history sciences.

Sleeping cabins, a mess hall and a laboratory have been built and workmen are now putting the finishing touches to the equipment preparatory to the opening on July 5.

Primary attention is to be devoted to the intensive study of local conditions in the streams, fields and forests of the large preserve. Close to the school site are about 2,000 acres of mature timber where many kinds of small game are to be found.

Recognizing the growth of the state's program for park development, the school will offer special instruction for those who desire to train themselves for park work.

Looks Like It

Grandma was seated between her two grown grandchildren riding around the city streets in the smart new roadster. Traffic was moving at a good rate of speed and grandma was not missing a single vehicle.

"Pears like there's a lot of people out today," she commented.

"Yes, there are, grandma," said her grandson.

"You know, I just believe the automobiles are here to stay," she observed after a few moments' reflection.

LAKE KATRINE.

Lake Katrine, June 9.—The Dramatic Club of Lake Katrine Grange will present their play next Wednesday evening, June 15, "Always in Trouble" or "A Hooded Con." It is a lively farce full of laughter-provoking situations and witticisms, but absolutely clean in every respect. Like most farces, this play depends more on its action and humor for its success than upon a complicated plot, which meets with hearty laughter and approval by the most critical audience. The cast of characters is as follows: Gideon Blair, a millionaire, William Hooker; Tom Riddle, a sick as a whistle, David Ebel, Jr.; Hiram Tutt, an awful nut; Horton Pierson; Patrick Keller, a ticket seller; Alfred Jones; Samantha Slade, a poor old maid; Mrs. John Dederick; Rosebud Reese, her charming niece; Stella Ketterson; Paula Meleek, a Bolshevik; Sylvia Mantovanni; Lulu Pearl, a rattle girl; Mrs. Alfred Jones; Misery Moon, the hoodooed con; Roger Keough, a railroad station; at Slabtown, Missouri. Time, present. Dancing will follow the rendition of the play. Music by the Grange Orchestra.

The annual meeting of the Junior League was held on Monday, June 6, at the home of Miss Jane Van Eiten. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. William Anderson Carl; vice president, Mrs. George V. D. Hutton; secretary, Mrs. William R. Kruff; treasurer, Miss Florence Tappen; directors, Mrs. Charles A. Warren, Mrs. Newton H. Fessenden.

The following report on baby welfare work during the year was submitted.

Madame President and League Members:

Permit me to tender you the following report of the Baby Welfare Committee from July 1, 1926 to June 1, 1927. Mrs. Lois Gray, J. N., in charge of the work. During the months of July and August, 1926, the work was quiet, there being no very sick babies and nothing of any great importance occurred until September when we held our famous baby health contest at the Kingston Exposition.

On September 14 the preliminary health contest was held at the City Hall, over 100 babies being present. Drs. Day, Connelly and Norwood examined the children eliminating those deficient in the qualities necessary to enter the contest and on the 17th the final contest was held at the Exposition with Drs. Loughran, Van Norstrand and Jacobson as examiners. Two beautiful silver cups were awarded the winners, one donated by the Junior League and one by the Chamber of Commerce, also two $5 gold pieces were awarded two children who came near but not quite reaching the required standard of excellence in health. Mrs. Gray and members of the league were most diligent in helping at this time. We also maintained a Junior League Baby Welfare booth at the exposition which was open for inspection after noon and evening, a Junior League member in attendance.

During the year Mrs. Gray has assisted Mrs. O'Neil at the toxix clinic and Miss Cassidy at Saugerties, also Miss Hagelweide, the county tuberculosis nurse at the chest clinic at the court house. She has assisted Dr. Connelly (by request) with several minor operations in the homes and has given ether for Dr. Chandler at the operation of one of our patients taken to the Kingston City Hospital.

Mrs. Gray attended the lectures for infant and prenatal care and feeding given by Miss O'Connor, R. N., Albany, at the City Hall, also the state convention for nurses held at Middletown, New York.

At Christmas time through the efforts of the Salvation Army six of our families were provided with Christmas baskets and toys were given to families. We also received a donation of $10 from Mrs. John Reading, Jr., which was used for food for a family. Also $5 grocery order from Mrs. Ralfe, a patient of ours, which was used for another patient. Through the kindness of the Veterans of Foreign Wars the family of an ex-service man was helped, $15 having been donated. A large wardrobe for our supplies was made possible by James O'Reilly at the City Hall.

Among the doctors who have performed special attentions for us, gratis Dr. Gates has examined and treated one infant with discharging ear. Dr. Chandler has removed tonsils and adenoids from two children and performed a very serious major operation on one of our mothers. Dr. Reading has extracted eight teeth for another prenatal patient.

Medicine has been bought for four women during either prenatal or post-natal care. Also oil and Dextro Maltose for infants.

Milk has been supplied to five (5) families.

Food to four families. Clothes to seven families. Baby carriages to four families. Obstetrical packages to five persons.

Layettees to six persons.

Infant mortality for 1926, 69.8, showing a decrease over 1925 at which time it was 84.

Through the kindness of Sister Margaret we have been able to send maternity patients to the Benedictine who otherwise could not afford to go. We have sent six cases.

The necessity of committee meetings has been somewhat obviated by having Mrs. Gray present at monthly business meetings and by her being able at that time to take up with the members of the league any matter which called for discussion.

During the year we have had many fine donations of infants clothes, adult garments, toys and four baby carriages.

I am happy to report that the cabinet containing our supplies was undamaged during the recent fire at the city hall and we have on hand at present five layettes and two obstetrical packages.

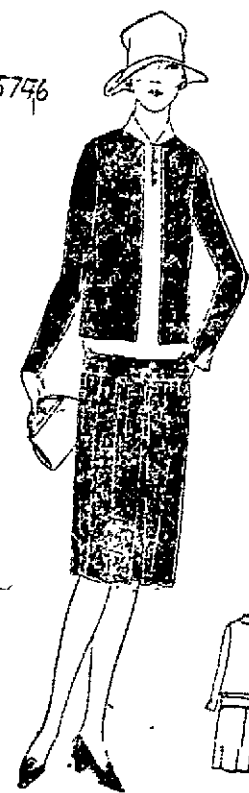

Respectfully submitted,

ANNETT CODWISE,

Chairman Baby Welfare Committee

Boo!

She had been turning over every article the weary salesman had placed before her on the counter, but nothing seemed to be exactly the thing she wanted.

"I am afraid there's nothing here to suit," she decided at last, and then in a burst of conscience, whispered: "You see, tomorrow is my husband's birthday and I wanted to surprise him."

The weary man behind the counter gave her a smiling look. "Well," he suggested in icy tones, "why not hide behind the armchair and yell 'Boo' at him?"

ENEMIES IN WAR, NOW AMERICANS, WORK TOGETHER

Former German Finds He Was on Hot End of Ex- Canadian's Hot Spot.

Chicago.—A bunch of boys who work for a big electric company were whooping it up the other day about some of the hot spots they'd been in on the western front about ten years ago. "I vote," said Harry Ratcliffe, a twenty-eight-year old engineer, "for Passchendaele. That was warm enough for me. It was on November 5, 1917, and I was corporal of the Little Black Devils of the Twenty-seventh battalion of Canadians, in charge of a squad of machine gunners.

"The Germans charged us time after time. I thought they'd get us, too. But the machine gun was stuttering too fast for 'em. They finally beat it for the ruins of a chateau. Boy, it was warm!"

Seligman Knew It Was Hot. One of Corporal (later Lieutenant) Ratcliffe's most spellbound listeners was another young engineer, William Seligman.

"You bet," commented Seligman, "that was a hot day. I was one of those Germans that faced your machine gun. I was a private in the Four Hundred Sixty-eighth Infantry regiment."

The engineers got out a map, pointed out familiar spots, grinned, and shook hands.

"I was one of fifteen who escaped alive from your fire," said Seligman. "There were ninety-seven of us to begin with."

Unknown for Four Years.

For four years, Ratcliffe and Seligman, now both Americans, have worked side by side in the big electric company's works without realizing they had met ten years ago in circumstances not so friendly.

Ratcliffe, originally from Winnipeg, now lives at 122 North Leclaire avenue, and Seligman, who hailed from Frankfort-on-Main, dwells with his mother and sister at 1623 North Lockwood avenue.

Girl, Kissed by Pet Dog, Dies of Hydrophobia

Berlin.—The death by hydrophobia of a ten-year-old girl who allowed her pet dog to kiss her has led medical scientists in Berlin to issue a warning against the belief that only bites of mad dogs are dangerous.

In an exhaustive analysis of the peculiar case the Zentralblatt fuer Bakteriologie, a bacteriological journal, reports that the dog was afflicted with rabies, but appeared to be healthy. It did nothing more than lick the child's cheek, the disease germs entering her blood through an abrasion of the skin. Three months later the girl died in violent convulsions.

The journal points out that this case should be a warning against "the disgusting habit of some people of allowing their faces to be licked by their dogs, not only because of its offensiveness, but especially because of the possibility of its proving fatal."

Fasting Epidemic Begins to Sweep Over England

London.—Fast—and become a genius.

Abstinence from food is the only failing nurse for noble natures, if one is to believe the wonderful effects of the "fasting cure" institutes recently opened in England.

The regimen in these establishments is mainly of fasting from solid foods for periods varying from a day to a month, or longer, the drinking of large drafts of water and orange or lemon juice, with plenty of exercise for the first few days.

Some patients say, at the end of the treatment, they feel more clear headed and fit in every respect than before. Each loses an average of two pounds to weight a day.

CLINTONDALE.

Clintondale, June 9.—On Wednesday, June 1, a quilting bee was held at the home of Mrs. Werner Fastherb, when two quilts were quilted.

The ladies of the M. E. Church gave Miss Fritze Sutton a surprise house warming last Friday afternoon. All reported an enjoyable time.

The Epworth League monthly social and business meeting was held in the church social rooms last Friday night. The attendance was unusually large. Walter Beatty, president, presided. Dr. Horley, Harry White, and Rev. Clemmie Ellis White were received as members of the league. Plans were made for the anniversary dinner on June 23. Mrs. William Upright was appointed chairman of the dinner arrangements. The invitation to hold the next social and business meeting at the "Elliswood" was enthusiastically accepted. The time of the next meeting is Friday evening, July 1. Mrs. Harry Thompson is chairman of the entertainment and refreshment committee. The literary program, which follows, was in charge of Miss Ruth Williamson:

Piano Solo....Miss Dorothy Upright
Recitation....Eleanor Thompson
Duet, Miss Esther Quigley and Miss Mary Ella Kanane.

Piano Solo, Miss Myrtle Thompson
Address....Rev. Clemmie Ellis White
Instrumental Trio, Miss Dorothy Upright, piano, ukulele; Miss Mildred Roland, violin; Miss Myrtle Thompson, ukulele.
Reading, Miss Martha Terwilliger.
L'Envol.

Piano Solo....Miss Lella Simpson
Viola Solo....Miss Mildred Roland

Following the literary program refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed by all. During the communion service Sunday evening, Mrs. Chester Ackhart was cordially welcomed into the church fellowship. Miss Myrtle Thompson sang an appropriate solo and Gershwin's "Rhapsody" and the pastor sang a duet. More than thirty participated in the communion service. The pastor spoke of the necessity of symbols as an aid to the understanding of mental and spiritual abstractions.

The annual Children's Day program will be rendered on Sunday evening, June 12. The Sunday school is in charge of the exercises. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Anniversary dinner, June 23.

How the Accident Happened.

Henry Burton of West Sauceredges wishes to correct the item in last week's Freeman concerning his accident and fishing trip. He was fishing in Cooper's Lake, instead of Ashokan reservoir. His car slid sideways against a tree while making a turn. Instead of driving to a tree, and Fager Hummel had three fingers badly cut, not his hand crushed and arm hurt, as reported. It was the second accident they have had while on a fishing trip, the last one occurring three years ago.

Huling Trains "Charley" to Swim

Has Hoped That Seal Will Carry Message From Kingston to New York and Later Become a Channel Swimmer.

Ray G. Huling of 3 North Front street, who is programmed in a vaudeville act as "Huling and His Dancing Seal," and is known from coast to coast because of the wonderful work of his seal known as "Charley," is sanguine that "Charley" will bring fame to Kingston.

He is training the seal to follow a motor boat and not only has had him swim distances in the Esopus creek from the Huling training quarters on the plank road a short distance from the Higginsville bridge, but has taken "Charley" daily for a few days to Kingston Point in his automobile and had him follow a motor boat across the river three times to Rhinecliff and back and also follow the motor boat a much longer distance on different trips. Mr. Huling is planning to have his seal swim the English and the Catalina channels, also the Narragansett Bay, and follow his motor boat from Kingston to New York city, carrying a message from Mayor Dempsey to Mayor Walker. In order to train "Charley," Mr. Huling gave up a seven weeks' engagement on the Keith-Albee circuit of theatres.

"Charley," who is eleven years old, has been giving exhibitions for seven years, and will be remembered as the clown seal when the act was given at the Exposition given at the Kingston Fair Grounds a few years ago. He does the Charleston and the Black Bottom dances, the shimmy and other dances. He has fourteen different tones of voice and about two months ago was heard over the radio when he broadcasted, and pictures of him before the "Mike" were printed in many newspapers.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

ENSEMBLES CONTINUE TO CAPTURE OUR IMAGINATIONS, AND NOVELTY MATERIALS ARE EMPLOYED FOR THE COAT THAT ONLY PARTLY HIDES THE FROCK BENEATH.

New York.—The ensemble is a tie-hard. Too practical and too effective to cast aside, women are delighted to hear that Paris continues to assemble street costumes, although being amiable about allowing us latitude if we have no appreciation of color or of what clothes aim to express. Coats do all sorts of things, but one is never in error in choosing a straight-line one. This, irrespective of the silhouette beneath.

The more recent advices from abroad deal with comments on fashions, greatly modified, and of lines that simulate a skirt and jacket effect. As every one knows, reptile skins have rivaled fur trimmings, and now have become a usual coat decoration. Some of the newer ensembles have silk coats and light-

Loving words will cost but little
Journeying up the hill of life.
But they make the weak and weary
Stronger for the strife.

Do you count them only trifles?
What to earth are sun and rain?
Never was a kind word wasted,
Never was one said in vain.

RECIPES AND HINTS

As fish is such easily digested food, it should be served as often as possible on the family table.

Deviled Fish.—Take two pounds of any meaty fish, brush a dish with hot fat, lay in the fish and cover with the following sauce: One cupful of white sauce, one-half cupful of chopped green pepper, one-half beaten egg, two teaspoonfuls of salt, one-half teaspoonful of mustard, one teaspoonful of any table sauce, one teaspoonful of grated onion, two teaspoonfuls of butter; brush the fish with the other half of the beaten egg, add two cupfuls of lightly flaked fish to the sauce and pour over the fish. Sprinkle with bread crumbs and bake in a hot oven until well browned.

Tapioca Pudding.—Cook one tablespoonful of tapioca fifteen minutes in a pint of milk. Dissolve one tablespoonful of gelatin in one-half cupful of water, add one-half cupful of sugar, the yolk of an egg, and add to the first mixture. Pour over stewed prunes, apricots or peaches. When cool stir in one-half cupful of whipped cream.

Old silk stockings make fine rugs. When you have a run in a good stocking take it at once with a crochet hook and loop the stitch back, then fasten securely.

To make two pounds of butter out of one pound, soften it, but do not melt, and mix with a pint of new milk, add salt and carefully mix. The butter will be lighter in color, and not so solid, but it will go farther when used on the table.

For a severe chest cold melt two parts of lard and add one part of turpentine. Rub the chest and throat well with this mixture, cover with a flannel and in a few hours one will be relieved.

A good sized market basket is a helpful servant in the home. It will hold fruit and vegetables when visiting the fruit cellar, or carrying laundry or anything from floor to floor.

WITTENBERG.—The Children's Day exercises of the Wittenberg M. E. Sunday school will be given on Sunday, June 12, at 11 o'clock, standard time.

The ladies of the Wittenberg Church will hold their annual fair and supper on July 27 in the afternoon and evening. There will be many beautiful and useful articles for sale.

Bags and Shoes Are in Spring Ensemble Picture

With color scheme and harmony playing so important a role in the assembling of accessories, designers are bringing out new shades in leathers for handbags. The two leathers most in evidence are ostrich and lizard. In lizard the pastel tints are preferred, for they blend in well with the neutral tones of the original coloring of the skins.

Ostrich is dyed in tones of wood rose, beige, gray, red, green and dark brown. In the tan and brown tones alligator to match is used for frame-work, strap handles and in similar ways.

The lizard bags are chiefly shown in medium sizes, in preference to those of large proportions, and include flat envelopes, melon-shaped pouches and pouches that are almost square. Shirred tops, plaited sides and overlapping sections furnish new details in design. In all instances these lizard bags are mounted on self-covered frames. Color contrast is often achieved by having the clasp in a color to emphasize that of the bag. The color tones include rose shades, greens, blues, yellows, reds and orange; and if these bags are carried when a gay little printed frock is worn with lizard shoes, the color ensemble is especially charming. Gay colored silks line the bags in tones to harmonize with the leather.

Honey Shade Flattering to Blond and Brunette

At the openings of the haute couture of Paris it was evident that there would be little change in silks. Much crepe de chine and chiffon is seen and many printed silks in the small designs similar to those shown in men's neckwear. For evening both chiffon and satin are used in almost equal ratio.

A charming fashion, that will evidently increase in popularity as the season advances, is the wearing of afternoon frocks of printed silk under simple straight coats of plain silk or wool, lined with the same silk. Many small dotted prints are features in the heavy crepe de chine and georgettes that make such successful models.

The satin frock for evening is unquestionably one of the most important of the new spring modes, and its prestige is increased by the fact that in a number of instances it is in the new fashionable shade of honey, a pale color that is flattering to blond and brunette alike. Other frocks are evidence of the importance of black, and in several cases touches of honey color give new distinction to the dress of black satin.

Alfalfa is said to be gaining in popularity, probably due to the increase in the use of cigarettes.

Renew Search for Missing Airmen

St. Johns, N. F., June 10 (P).—Undismayed by his first day's failure, Major F. Sidney Cotton was eager today to renew his air search for Captains Nungesser and Francois Coll, missing French trans-Atlantic fliers, who are believed to have met disaster somewhere near this island.

Major Cotton flew his big monoplane, the Jeanne De Arc, over the jagged coast line and rugged interior of the huge wedge of land that has as its salients this city, Harbor Grace, 25 miles northeast, and the south-western shore up of Placentina Bay, 120 miles to the south.

From scattered communities in this area came persistent reports of a humming airplane and varying accounts of strange explosions and troubled motors on May 9, the day the French fliers were due to reach this side of the Atlantic on a route that was believed would take them over this island, on their way from Paris to New York.

GREAT BENEFITS IN N. Y. HEALTH WATERS

Saratoga's Famous Springs Regain Popularity

Two famous old health springs at Saratoga are again on the map. These are the Delicious Sparkling Geyser and the equally renowned Hathorn. Geyser is being prescribed more than ever to relieve acidity and its resulting indigestion, gas, sour stomach and headaches.

Hathorn Water, a natural laxative and pleasant eliminant, is having a great run as a "Before Breakfast" health drink. Its action is thorough and gentle. Its taste is delicious; its effect, refreshing and invigorating.

Geyser is taken with the meals to remove acid conditions. Considerable success is being achieved in rheumatic cases by drinking Geyser in liberal quantities between meals. Both waters are highly efficient in health building. Give them a test. They will prove.

Gasmen Blank West Shore, 4-0

Central Hudson Team Strengthens Hold On First Place—Whittaker Stars in Role as Relief Pitcher.

A large assemblage of baseball fans watched the Central Hudson Gas & Electric team whitewash the West Shore Railroad team, 4-0, at the Athletic Field Thursday evening and take a better hold on first place in the Industrial Baseball League. The Gasmen displayed their best baseball in the pinches; ten of the Railroaders being stranded on the sacks. Whittaker, relief pitcher for the Gasmen, kept the Railroaders from scoring.

Neither team showed much strength in the hitting department, the Gasmen getting six hits and the Railroaders four. Sickler and Shea being the heaviest clouters, getting a two-base hit apiece.

Carpenter, on the mound for the Railroaders, pitched good ball. He fanned eight men and allowed but one earned run. Crispell started for the Gasmen and managed to stay around until the fifth inning when he filled the bases without anybody being put out and forced himself out of the pitcher's box. Whittaker took up the burden and redired the side without scoring, showing wonderful relief work, fanning two of the batters and making the other one hit to the second baseman for an easy force out at home.

The Gasmen scored two runs in the first inning which would have been enough to win the game. Hoffman, first batter to face Carpenter, walked, stole second, and scored on Sickler's double. Van Buren hit to Leake, who made a perfect throw to Shea, at first base, but he muffed the ball and then allowed Sickler to score when he made a wild throw over Shea's head.

The Railroaders had two men on the bases in the third inning, but were unable to push them across. In this inning the Gasmen scored one. Mulligan started a rally for the Railroaders in the fifth inning, hitting to right field for a single, and advancing to third base as Shultz and Williams were given free passes. At this time Whittaker came in the picture and dimmed all hopes for the Railroaders by striking out the hard hitting Leskie. Mulligan was forced out at home and Carpenter was an easy victim by way of the strike-out route.

Shea sent a double to left field in the sixth inning for the Railroaders and stole third, after one was out. But Whittaker took care of the other two batters by throwing one out at first and fanning the other. The Gasmen tallied one more in their half of the sixth on two hits and a passed ball. The Railroaders managed to get one man on base in the last inning but they couldn't advance him past second base.

Carpenter struck out five batters in the first two innings. Not so bad for a boy just breaking in.

Hits were scarce for both teams, not a single player getting over one.

The Gasmen had a clean slate in the error column until the last inning. Then Sickler threw one over Quinn's head.

Asbury, N. Y., June 10 (AP).—Secretary F. E. Farrell, of the New York-Pennsylvania Baseball League, announced today that proceeds of all league games Saturday of this week will be forwarded to the relief of the Mississippi flood sufferers.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By the Associated Press.)

The White Sox today were painfully aware of the fact that the Yankees consider them "just another ball club," as the first three games of the current and important four-game series would indicate on the surface. Whatever Ray Schlabach, Chicagoans showed against older American League clubs it has been lacking in the first invasion of New York.

The Huguenots overcame a three-run lead in the sixth and seventh innings yesterday and took their third straight from the Sox, 5-2. Ted Blankenship was master of the pitching situation until the late innings, when he was hit out of the box. Ray Morehart, formerly of the Sox, hit a home run with two on and Babe Ruth slapped out a triple and then stole home. Lyons was scheduled to take the mound for Chicago today.

Walter Johnson was no puzzle for the Cleveland Indians and the Senators went down to a 7-1 defeat. It was Elg Barnes, a second defeat in successive starts. Washington failed to score on George Lile after the first inning.

Potterelli's batting was too big factor in Detroit's 5-0 win over Boston but the Tigers had to put over a four-run rally in the 9th to take the game.

Philadelphia pounded the ball hard and won their fourth straight from St. Louis 9-2. Jimmy Dykes led the attack with four singles. Ernie Nevers of Stanford University football eminence, was popped out of the box in the sixth inning.

The National League situation was enlivened a bit by New York second victory in successive days over the pace setting Pirates who suffered a 12-1 jolt. Freddie Fitzsimmons was in fine form and McGraw's club backed him up with 15 solid hits off three Pirate hurlers.

The World Champion Cardinals had an easy time trimming Boston 6-1. Jess Haines scattered seven hits while St. Louis got to Robertson early and pounded him out.

Chicago's National League entry got to Jess Pett, the Brooklyn portender, and drove him out, winning by a 4-3 count. The Cubs have met the Robins seven times this year and have yet to see to Uncle Wilbert's sock.

Wrightstone tripled in the 9th inning and Philadelphia pulled a loose game from Cincinnati, 6-5.

Study Benefits Of College Sports

New York, June 10 (AP).—A comprehensive study of the comparative benefits and costs of college athletics which has been under way for the last two years under the direction of Dr. Thomas A. Storey, representing a college committee on undergraduate hygiene, and Dr. Louis I. Duolin, insurance statistician, is to be officially announced next fall.

Football, rowing, track, baseball, lacrosse, cross country and hockey are being studied and the survey is to rest solely on facts. The report, Dr. Duolin says, will preclude the necessity of all fine writing on the subject of strenuous college sports and the effect on after life.

HIGHBINDER BEAT ESOPUS MEN'S CLUB

The Highbinder of the Seventh Ward bagged another contest when they met the Esopus Men's Club at the latter's diamond Thursday night.

This makes the second win over the lower Hudson district by the Highbinder. The score was 10-5. George Schick did the pitching for the Highbinder and did fine work. Chuchie Albright, who hits hard, again came through with his usual homer. It was in the seventh that he completed the circuit clout with the bags loaded. The inning proved a lucky seventh for the Highbinder out of a 6-5 hole. Bill Joy, who did a pinch hit stunt in the sixth, brought in two men with his wallop.

(Game At Block Park.)

This evening at Block Park the Gully All-Stars and the Rondout A. C. lines will meet in combat for the second of a five-game series. The Gullys have one win to their credit which will tend to make both teams fight hard at the Abel street diamond as the Rondouts are out to even up the series.

Then and Now

Bobby Jones isn't old in the picture on the right, of course, but he was ten years younger when the picture at the left was taken. He's shown as a youngster on Southern Jinks and again after he won the national open in 1922 and 1923, and the British open in 1924.

CONGREGATIONALS MEET

PAN-AM NINE TONIGHT

Tonight on the Saugerties road diamond the fast stepping Congregationalists of the Sunday School League will cross bats with the Pan-Ams. So far this year the Sunday school lads have not lost a game. However they are taking no chances with the Pan Ams. The Congregationalists are greatly strengthened by the addition of "Dutch" Hahn and Chet Jansen.

The infield positions will be held by Rockefeller, Sinsabaugh, Jansen and Krum. The outfielders are Hahn, Planthaber, Carle, Lawrence and Williams. Carpio will pitch with Emmick catching. Carpenter or Steltz will probably pitch for the Pan Ams with McGuire catching.

LOCAL PLAYERS HELPED

NEWBURGH NINE WIN

Bob Lynch, Fred Stoudt and Hank Cragan, three well known baseball players of this city recently performed on the Black Sox nine of Newburgh when they defeated Gardentown, 9-2 in the Twilight League of the Hill City. Of the seven inning period, Fred Stoudt buried five stanzas and fanned eight men. He allowed two hits. Cragan took the mound for the two final frames and sent six batters to the bench.

Turned Professional to Make His Living

Vincent Richards, publicly criticizing the United States Lawn Tennis association, says that he had to turn professional because he could not make a decent living in the few months when he was not playing amateur tennis or training to play amateur tennis.

The general impression has always been that an amateur was supposed to play solely for the love of playing.

Probably Richards is a bit more frank than some of the others who are still amateurs.

JOCKEYS ARE BORN, SAYS EARL SANDE

Discusses Qualifications of Good Rider of Horses.

"Stick to business, keep your head up, your knees tight, your brain clear and you'll get there."

So declares Earl Sande, the jockey, in discussing the qualifications of men who ride thoroughbreds.

"Jockeys, like poets, are born, not made," he says. "Race riding is a matter of temperament, plus, of course, proper physical equipment. If a boy loves horses and will work hell make the grade."

"Some get there quicker than others. For instance, there are dozens of riders that never worry a minute about making weight. I have to watch this constantly."

"During the season I eat a couple of slices of dry toast and drink a cupful of coffee when I get up. Then nothing more until evening, when I eat a hearty dinner, except red meats are excluded. Road work and exercising horses help me, too."

"Then, when the racing season is over, I go back to three meals a day."

to build myself up to a condition strong enough to withstand the next training grind. Every race rider, of course, must master the rudiments of his game.

"After that it is a matter of the individual. Some of the best mechanical riders at the track will never become stars of the turf. They work, but something isn't there. To others it comes easy. That's what I mean by temperament. Work, work, work and take an interest in what you do. Riding is a profession that requires the same devotion, integrity and high standard of ethics as any other profession."

"People have an idea successful jockeys are rolling in wealth. It isn't true. We're well paid after we get our reputation established, but don't think we get anything like the salaries Babe Ruth, for example, or other leaders in sports draw down. We don't."

Sande, who hails from American Falls, Idaho, and became a sensation of the Kentucky circuit in 1918, won his first two derby victories on Zer and Flying Ebony. This year he finished second with Omand.

Young Dreyfus Declares

Pirates Will Win Flag

Like his father, Barney Dreyfus, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Sam Dreyfus, treasurer and part owner of the club, isn't an overtalkative individual, but he is willing to let the world know he is proud of the array of talent that will seek baseball's highest honors this year.

The Pirates reached the top two years ago, and the younger Dreyfus says the 1927 team thus far promises to equal if not excel the one that brought home the world series championship.

Internal troubles racked the outfit last year, but the significant statement, "a case of some of the fellows being there too long," indicated the owners anticipated no further difficulty along those lines.

Omie Bush, new manager of the Pirates, apparently has made an impression with his boss. Dreyfus described the stocky pilot as a man "who talks and thinks baseball from morning until night—then dreams it from night and morning."

CHRIST OR CHAOS?

BOOKS TO READ.

3.—False Prophets, by James N. Giffen.

Mother Sues Son, Wins, but He Loses Nothing

New York—Samuel Orbach of 71 Columbia street, against whom a jury in the Supreme court rendered a verdict for $15,000, was a contented defendant, first, because his own mother, Mrs. Sarah Orbach, with whom he lives, was the plaintiff, and second, because he will not have to pay the judgment. So far as Orbach was concerned, it was a friendly suit and the damages will be paid by a casualty company.

The suit of the mother against her son grew out of an automobile ride on which Orbach drove his own car. The other passengers, besides Mrs. Orbach and her son, were his fiancée and his sister. Orbach, his mother said, was driving along a road on his way to one of the state parks along the Hudson, when his car swerved and ran into a tree.

Mrs. Orbach sustained injuries which necessitated the amputation of a leg. She sued her son for $100,000 damages.

The situation as regards the national radio board is still very much to the state.

It's a question, whether a better cigarette testimonial than a sermon.

The Paris divorce courts occasionally provide examples of a "French farce" taken seriously.

There has always been an army of unemployed to stand around and watch other people work.

Finest confession is good for the soul, but the modern idea seems to be, let's repudiate the confession.

Senator Bogdon Shot to Death

Denver, June 10 (AP)—State Senator Albert E. Bogdon was shot to death last night in the apartment of Mrs. Helen E. Minter, wife of a telephone company employe, from whom she had separated.

Police started a search for Minter when persons in adjoining apartments told of seeing a man answering his description leaving the building after the shooting.

Mrs. Minter said the senator called in connection with a divorce suit which he had filed for her.

Bogdon is survived by his widow and one daughter. He was 36 years old.

Right after Mussolini attempted to regulate women's fashions, he ordered his name removed from a war memorial monument, and tomorrow he may resign in favor of the king.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Reception Thursday evening was fair. There was little static or other interference and it was not difficult to tune in WOC, which was giving a fine band concert, and most of the Chicago stations. Montreal and Ottawa were also good. Among New York city stations WMCA, WMSG and WEAH were especially good. WGBD at Zion City was also among the good ones.

New batteries did it. Using the old set that had just begun to squeal a little after nearly 1,200 hours of service, only a very few stations could be heard, but with new batteries almost everything was obtainable. Probably with new tubes in place of the ones that have run more than 2,000 hours Honolulu, Oshkosh and the Man in the Moon could have been heard.

A lot of "summer fading" is nothing but weak batteries and old tubes. Sets are used all winter until the batteries are exhausted and the tubes weakened and then, coincidentally, summer comes and is blamed for the poor reception. Try new batteries before you say there is no good radio reception in summer. That reception is slightly poorer is all the greater reason your batteries and tubes should be in the best condition.

Hunting Up Father

Gloves, swallow-tail coats and chaplains have practically disappeared from the list of necessities at modern social functions, remarks the Woman's Home Companion, but the host is still extant—"while his wife receives, he mingles with guests, making introductions." If he isn't visible the best place to look for him is in the attic, or down cellar, or in the garage underneath the car. Or you may catch him going around the corner, headed for the club.

The AMERICAN LEGION

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service)

RESERVATIONS TIME HAS BEEN EXTENDED

Time in which reservations may be made in the American Legion pilgrimage to France next September has been indefinitely extended by Howard P. Savage, national commander of the Legion, following urgent requests from the field. The reservations will be accepted and handled to a date as near as possible to that upon which the big Legion fleet of 24 vessels will shove off for France, it was announced by National Commander Savage. Many factors make it imperative that Legionnaires planning to take part in the France convention pilgrimage should make reservations at the earliest possible moment, said Commander Savage.

"I would not wish any Legionnaire to be barred from revisiting the scenes of the World War and the cemeteries where our comrades lie buried in France," said Commander Savage.

"I cannot, however, urge too strongly that veterans planning to make the September pilgrimage make their reservations at once. There is now a variety of steamship accommodations and housing in Paris from which the veteran may make a selection to suit his taste and pocketbook. The space of the ships is rapidly filling, and some of the liners already have a full quota. Especially is this true of two berth cabins and accommodations for man and wife.

"Veterans who recognize these conditions and make reservations early will be able to obtain accommodation they desire, while those who wait will have to take what is left," Commander Savage said.

There still remain accommodations with state delegations. The steamship accommodations range in price round trip from $145.80 up on most of the ships, and from $151.50 up on the SS. Leviathan, flagship of the movement. The Legionnaires will be exempt from steamship tax and landing charges if they carry the official American Legion identification certificate. This certificate which will be issued for the nominal sum of $1 to those taking the trip will effect a saving of $20 alone in passport and visa charge if the veteran goes to France alone. Eighteen countries of Europe will accept the Legion certificate in lieu of passport and visa charge.

Fifty per cent reduction in United States, Canadian and French railroads to veterans having the identification certificate have been announced. The British, Belgian, Italian and German railways have likewise announced a substantial reduction in fares to the visiting Legionnaires. Remarkable savings on Paris hotel accommodations due to the fact that contracts were made by the Legion with the hotel men when the franc was low, are announced. Thirty thousand rooms in Paris are under contract.

Post Escorts Pupils on Visit to State Capital

The week after it completed a membership campaign which increased its membership 313 per cent and gave it second place in a state-wide contest, the Harry Howe post of the American Legion of Lynn, Ind., plunged into community service activities, taking the civics classes of Lynn and Spartanburg high schools to Indianapolis to visit the state legislature and state and national headquarters of the Legion.

Forty-five pupils were taken on the trip in automobiles provided by Legionnaires. D. J. Ferguson, principal of Lynn high school and a member of the post, and Raymond Sommers, post adjutant, led the group. Sessions of both houses of the legislature were visited, the pupils being shown how the laws of the state are made. A visit was also paid to the office of Governor Jackson. Later the classes were shown through the state and national Legion headquarters where the work of the Legion was described by John Kilgore, adjutant of the Indiana department.

Massachusetts Legion O. K.'s Blue Uniform

Navy blue won in a conference of Massachusetts Legionnaires held in Boston recently on the question of an official uniform for the department. Seven models of uniforms were displayed. The type favored consisted of a blue overcoat with gold piping and the Legion seal in gold, a single-breasted blue coat with brass buttons, brass numbers showing the wearer's post, brass letters "M.A.S." on each lapel and a large Legion emblem embroidered on the left shoulder, and blue trousers with a gold stripe down each leg.

Obedience Instructions

"Oh—ah—by the way," remarked the doctor in some embarrassment, "how about that little girl I sent you last month?"
"Oh, yes," agreed the patient's wife. "Well, you know you told me not to worry over anything."—The American Legion Monthly.

IN CHAMBERLIN'S OLD HOME TOWN

Denison, Ia., is Clarence Chamberlin's overjoyed home town, the main street of which is shown in the top picture. The other photos are treasured by friends of the flier. One shows the jewelry store where he had his first job. The other depicts him on the motorcycle which was his first gas-propelled steed. The latter picture was taken in 1914.

Hindu Leader Saddened

Gandhi, the great Hindu leader, has just completed a year's absolute withdrawal from the world. He has spent the time meditating, studying the New Testament and expounding sacred Hindu writings. The Mahatma is reported to be wasted and extremely thin owing to a severe illness following his imprisonment. He is also a very sad man and confesses that he lacks the sense of communion with a personal God, professed by many Christians that gives to them a sense of joy. Nevertheless, he leans utterly upon God, as he understands Him. Gandhi has an extremely magnetic personality and there is a wonderful radiance in his eyes, we are told by a woman who interviewed him. Yet he is very unemotional and practical, and has given himself completely to God, and to the task of setting India free, as he understands freedom—Pierre Van Paasen, in the Atlanta Constitution.

Course of Oriental Art

In the way of an experiment, the New York university a short time ago established a course of Moslem art, mosques, monuments and antiquities, and while it was thought that it would fill a demand it was not anticipated that it would meet with quick response. Its sponsors thought the classes would probably work up to 200 or 300 in five years, but the registration has already reached 2,000 students. During the past summer Dr. R. M. Reifstahl spent several months abroad gathering material in the way of copies, plans and photographs. He made accurate measurements of 25 ancient structures and drew detailed plans of them, which will be of great value to the students.

No. 8 Graduates Are Banqueted

The parents of the graduating class of School No. 8 entertained the class of fifty-four boys and girls at a banquet at the Stuyvesant Hotel on Thursday evening. The tables were artistically decorated with the class colors, blue and white, the flowers being lilies of those colors. The special speaker at the banquet was County Boy Scout Executive Smith who chose for his subject "The Hike of Life," and subdivided his interesting topic, forcefully presented, into three sections: Preparedness, the Physical Life, Pride. The guests of honor were Maj. and Mrs. Smith, Prof. and Mrs. Garrison, Miss Abernethy and Miss Costello. Throughout the fine banquet and the evening Zucca and his pianist furnished both excellent music and merriment. The happy affair closed with the singing of the school song.

Confirmation at Holy Cross Church

The Right Rev. Harry Roberts Carson, D. D., Bishop of Haiti, acting for the Bishop of New York, will visit the Episcopal churches in Kingston Sunday to administer the sacrament of Holy Confirmation. He will say Mass at Holy Cross Church at 7:30 a. m., visit St. John's Church at 10:45 a. m. to administer Confirmation; and will confirm at Holy Cross at 4 p. m. He will preach at both churches. Bishop Carson is substituting for Suffragan Bishop Herbert Shipman who was to have confirmed here four weeks ago, but because of illness is unable to keep his appointments. Bishop Carson attracted notice a few years ago by being the first bishop to use an aeroplane in visiting his difficult diocese.

"That, my boy," said the forger of coins to his son as they passed the mint, "is my principal competitor."

Swims 8 Miles To Aid Husband

Georgetown, S. C., June 10 (AP) Battling waves and undertow for an hour and braving the danger of sharks, Mrs. A. W. Foster of New York swam eight miles to the north jetty of the harbor here to bring aid to her husband, who was drifting out to sea on his yacht, the Sea Hawk.

The Fosters were sailing for Florida from here Tuesday, when the yacht's engine suddenly ceased while the tide was carrying the vessel out to sea. Mr. Foster, who had recovered from an operation, was unable to accompany his wife in a row-boat to get help from shore. Her boat soon capsized in the heavy waves and she had to swim 8 miles to the breakwater.

When she finally reached the jetty, she collapsed in a dead faint and after regaining consciousness walked two miles in bare feet over sharp rocks to the lighthouse where her cries for help attracted attention. Fishermen then brought back the drifting yacht to the harbor.

Evans Charged with Manslaughter

Harold J. Evans, 29, the father of three children, was arrested Wednesday afternoon at his home in Ellenville by Sergeant John Hopkins, of the state police, on a charge of manslaughter in the second degree. He was released on bail of $5,000 after arraignment before Justice of the Peace Isaac Silverman of Monticello, who issued the warrant.

Evans is accused of driving the car in which Charles Tyler, formerly of Middletown, was killed last Friday. It is alleged Evans was intoxicated at the time. Tyler was killed when the machine was wrecked on a clear stretch of road near Lock Sheldrake. Sergeant Hopkins has taken the depositions of ten persons, accusing Evans, who had no chauffeur's or operator's license, Sergeant Hopkins says.

Evans is a former resident of Middletown. He will have a hearing June 14.

20 Executed At Moscow

Moscow, June 10 (AP)—Execution of twenty persons as a reply to the "open transition of terrorism" by opponents of the Soviet regime is announced in an official communique published today.

"In view of the open transition to terrorism and destructive struggle by monarchist and White guardist elements, acting from abroad on instructions and with funds from foreign intelligence services," the communique, "the collegium of the state political department passed death sentences at its session of June 9 on twenty persons, and the sentences have been carried out."

De Pinedo Continues Flight. Horta, Island of Fayal, Azores, June 10 (AP)—Commander Francesco de Pinedo, Italian long distance aviator, left here today in his seaplane, Santa Maria II for the spot, several hundred miles off the Azores, where he was forced to descend on the ocean while flying from Newfoundland to the Azores. On reaching this spot he will turn around and make for Ponta Delgada, Azores, to refuel and then continue to Italy.

Holy Name Events. St. Mary's Holy Name Society will receive communion on Sunday at the 8 o'clock Mass. The members will meet at 7:45 in the school hall to march to the church where they will occupy the middle aisle. In the evening at 7:30 the final meeting for the summer months will be held. Every member of the organization is asked to attend.

Rabbi Rose's Sermon Topic. Rabbi Rose will use as the topic for his sermon tonight at Temple Emanuel "Zionism Today." He will point out the existing shades of difference prevailing among Zionists and will also discuss from first hand information the suggested plans for a reconstruction of Zionist thought. State Dairymen To Meet at Utica

Albany, N. Y., June 10 (AP).—Delegates representing thousands of dairy farmers in the New York city district will discuss unification of the various producers' organizations at a mass meeting in Utica on June 17.

It is understood that a milk producers' conference board, based on the plan offered some time ago by Morgan B. Garlock, president of the Eastern States Milk Producers' Association, will be recommended to the delegates by the program committee. This body, organized several months ago to make a study of the situation after numerous efforts at unification of the various associations had failed, held a series of hearings, as a result of which the conference board plan is said to have been decided upon as the best means of bringing the producers together.

The board would be authorized to consider and act upon all matters pertaining to the production of milk for New York city, including the adoption of measures to assure proper prices to the dairyman. Member organizations would be the Sheffield Farms Producers' Association, the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Inc., the Unity Dairymen's Cooperative Association, and any other groups that cared to join.

Peter G. Ten Eyck, of Albany, chairman of the program committee, will present the report, which is expected to summarize the data gleaned from the hearings.

The delegates to the meeting, representing 100 milk-producing counties in New York, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, will be selected at county gatherings.

PREHISTORIC STONE MIRROR FOUND IN WESTERN CANADA

Rare Specimen Is Discovered by Archaeologists' Party in British Columbia.

Hazelton, B. C.—While there may not have been beauty parlors in the prehistoric days, the Indian braves and belles who inhabited what is now central British Columbia had their own methods and appliances for enhancing their charm.

The "rouge and cosmetics" used were obtained from natural coloring materials, but a discovery made here recently shows that hand mirrors also existed in their days. The discovery was made by a dominion archeologists' party in the prehistoric part of the ancient Gitksan village site, immediately below Hazelton, of one of the extremely rare stone mirrors known to have been used by the totem pole Indians of the Skeena valley area.

The specimen is a thin slab of black stone, one end of which is narrowed for a handle, and the other end has its flat surface highly polished. One of the older Hazelton Indians demonstrated to the archeologists how this was used. The mirror surface was wet and when this is done the polished surface actually reflects the human face so clearly that individual hairs and the color of the eyes are discernible.

The specimen secured is being sent to the national museum at Ottawa for preservation among the prehistoric Indian relics.

Ship's Lights in Fog

Lure Birds to Death

New York.—The tale of the fate of a large flock of birds in the dense fog outside New York was told by officers of the liner Ebro when it arrived from the west coast of South America. The liner dropped anchor off Ambrose lightship.

"It was a little after midnight," said Captain Ellis Roberts. "I was sitting in my quarters, when suddenly the air was filled with the fluttering of wings and voices of birds."

"I got up and looked out. There, coming out of the gray curtain of fog thousands upon thousands of birds appeared within the radius of our ship's lights. There were wrens, robins, sparrows, starlings and many other types, but not a single seagull."

"These birds dashed themselves against the sides of the ship and the lighted portholes; hundreds of them falling to the decks or into the sea, stunned or dead."

"The birds came out of the south and were probably on their annual migration north when they lost their bearings in the fog."

Jail Sentences Urged

for Misleading Ads

Berlin, Germany.—Jail sentences are being urged by the Retail Dry Goods association for shopkeepers who indulge in fraudulent or misleading advertising to attract trade.

The action is directed especially against those stores which are perpetually "going out of business" or "moving to larger quarters" or being "slightly damaged by fire."

Existing federal statutes covering false advertising have never been enforced, the association asserts, and the hot sales methods of numerous small shops are beginning to reflect discredit on the whole dry goods trade. Newspapers are urged to refuse advertising from unreliable stores.

Wished They Hadn't

As she tripped blithely across the roadway the celebrated actress noticed an old friend, a playwright, who was heavily bandaged, coming toward her. "Good gracious!" she exclaimed. "My dear, have you been in an accident?"

Her friend regarded her a moment. "No," he answered, "but you remember that play of mine which came on the other night?"

The other nodded. "Well, they called for the author at the end and, unfortunately, I didn't realize how much they wanted him."

600 Wreaths on Grave of Hungary's Godmother

Szekesfehervar, Hungary.—Six hundred wreaths were placed on her grave and a tree bearing 570 burning candles was planted nearby when Maria Molnar, eighty-nine, of this village was buried.

Each candle represented a child to whom Maria had stood godmother. Two hundred and ninety she had held in her arms while the priests christened them and 280 she had sponsored on their confirmation day.

She was known locally as "Hungary's godmother." At her funeral all of her godchildren who are still living took part, each bringing a wreath and a candle. The 30 remaining wreaths were added by friends.

"Jim," 77, Steps 12 Miles When He Needs Exercise

Norway, Mich.—Although "Jim" Bailey is seventy-seven years old, he claims he can "step out" and walk many miles with most anybody. Just to prove his mettle he often walks 12 miles, from this city to Loretto. "Jim" refuses to ride in automobiles, he says, when he is out for a little limbering-up exercise. He doesn't even stop to rest on the way.

"Old Jim" is a retired miner, is a bachelor. He says he doesn't know whether that accounts for his being able to hike like he does and when asked why he never married, "Jim" replied: "Well, I never stood still long enough for Cupid's arrow to hit my heart."

Rockets Travel Far

Many different types of rockets are made. The distance to which they will range and the height to which they will ascend depend upon the type. An ordinary sky-rocket, such as used on the Fourth of July, will probably not ascend more than 500 feet if fired from a vertical position, and will probably not range farther than 1,000 yards if held elevated at an angle of 30 degrees. The highest developed rocket is probably the tracer shell used in artillery. In this the projectile carries a supply of illuminating tracer composition in its base, and the tracer shell has nearly the range of the ordinary projectile. In some types upward of 20,000 yards.

Where Man Is Vain

Among the Kikonde negroes of Central Africa a man wears as many coils of iron as his arms and legs will hold, and keeps them brightly burnished with oil or fat.

Metal is so fascinating to the men of this tribe that telegraph wires are sometimes torn down to be made into armlets or anklets, or to be twisted to imitation of European travelers.

On festive occasions the numerous coils of iron are specially polished for the occasion. Then the Kikonde men add a string of empty cartridges, a piece of chain mail, anklets of bells, and any odd scraps of metal he can find.

CAT CAUSES DEATH OF WOMAN, CHILD

Opens Gas Jet While Playing With String.

Philadelphia. — Returning home from work, Frank Kinckla of 251 North Robinson street, found his wife, Madeline, thirty-nine years old, and his six-year-old daughter, Justine, dead from gas.

A pet cat and a canary bird also were found dead on the first floor of the house.

According to the investigations of the police of the Seventh district, it was the cat that was responsible for the asphyxiation.

A piece of string that was hanging over the gas range in the kitchen of the house gave the police their first clue. It is believed that the cat started to play with the hanging string, which in some manner pulled open one of the jets.

Mrs. Kinckla and the youngster were upstairs taking a nap and died without even realizing their danger.

According to Kinckla, he felt that something was wrong when he returned home and his daughter did not come out of the house to greet him as had been her custom since she was able to walk.

When he entered the house he smelled the gas and traced the leak to the kitchen, where he saw the cat dead upon the floor with its paws still reaching out to clutch the string. The canary was trapped in its cage.

Kinckla turned off the gas and ran through the house trying to find his wife and daughter. They were stretched across a bed in the second-floor front room, and when they failed to respond, he summoned neighbors and told them to get a physician.

A nearby doctor was summoned and pronounced them dead, but advised they be taken to the hospital. At the West Philadelphia Homeopathic hospital, all efforts failed.

May Spend His Life in Jail for 70-Cent Tax

Monessen, Pa.—Charles Ford, fifty-four, of Monongahela, may spend the remainder of his life in the Washington county jail, if he does not do something for himself in connection with a 70-cent tax he owes his home city. He has aroused the sympathy of many persons in various parts of the United States and he receives many missives of condolence. Some make small cash donations with the hope that he will be able to pay his way out. Ford seems absolutely unconcerned and refuses to go into court and take advantage of an opportunity to be freed under the insolvency act.

Washington county officials and those of Monongahela are debating who will have to pay the cost of his board.

Bride in Jail on Lie Told to Trap Mate

Santa Ana, Calif.—The old saying that "the woman pays" has never had much to do with perjury charges that grow out of marriages involving girls of tender years, local court officials say.

When Edward E. Livermore, twenty-five years of age of Santa Ana, came before Superior Judge Minks and asked for leniency in connection with a perjury charge, the court ordered the girl, Viola Wheeler Livermore, fifteen, held in custody also. She was turned over to the juvenile authorities. Viola and her parents were much surprised. It was said they had thought when they swore to the complaint against Livermore that only he would be punished and that his sentence would result in annulment of his marriage. None of which has happened so far.
